Chocolistic Seeds - A delicious & healthy bar

Chiropractic centres around Melbourne are beginning to notice a home-made treat. Perfect for lactose, wheat & sugar intolerances, 'Chocolistic Seeds' are sold in Chiropractic centres, organic & health stores, gyms & cafes with an overwhelming response.

Orly Zuker, 4th year RMIT Chiropractic student and Chocolistic Seeds' creator, has not only invented a tasty treat, but is also enjoying promoting a fair-trade & healthy quality product. The 'Chocolistic Treats Company' that Orly has formed with mother Adina and friend Helen (who have over 35 years of experience in the health industry between them), believe that the quality of what you put in & on your body, and the air you breathe are fundamentals for optimal health.

How it all started

'It all started in my kitchen', said Orly. 'I was cooking for a family dinner & wanted to create a dessert that wasn't chocolate cake or a fruit platter. I'm not the best at following recipes (to say the least), so I got busy creating my own recipe, and that was the night Chocolistic Seeds was born. During the dinner my mother in-law suggested selling it, and that I did. Now in its 4th form of packaging, this tantalizing bar is now pleasing the taste buds of consumers all around Australia. I still get excited when I walk into a shop & see it on their shelf or bench!! There are so many products on the market that have hidden sugars, dairy & wheat additives, so I am proud that I created something that is healthy, and at the same time, delicious.'

The Chocolistic Treats Company presents Chocolistic Seeds made with love & health in mind. Try them today in your centre for your team & patients to enjoy.
